

NOTES

- Machiavelli:
 - Half-measures are the worst type of measures.
 - The ruler forces the problem, one should never let a problem develop.
 - He's not talking about abstractions.

- Chapter 6:

- Opportunity you get and how you make it work for you.
- Understand the relationship between luck and skill.
- Those who rely less on luck, will turn out better.
- Take advantage of your fortune.
- You are placed in a place of opportunity in order to act appropriately when the time comes.
- The advice given to a subordinate and superior, is the difference to act.
- Show your game so they know "you mean business".
- People by nature are in constant.
- Romagna in Italy had a lot of violence.
- Hires guy called Remiro d'Orso, harsh but gets the job done. Gets executed for